OUR GROWING COMPANY

Southend-on-Sea is a densely populated coastal city with a vibrant character, but its needs are more profound than many places. Nine neighbourhoods rank among the 10% most deprived in the country, while around 21% of working-age residents (16–64) are economically inactive, significantly above regional averages. Approximately 35% of residents live in areas within the 30% most deprived nationally, and the life expectancy gap between the wealthiest and poorest wards is almost a decade.

Against this backdrop, rising living costs are placing increasing pressure on households, with local authorities reporting growing demand for support with food, energy, and other essential living costs. In response, the Trust’s mission is clear: to create a stronger, healthier Southend by enhancing community life through sport, wellbeing, and charitable initiatives that unite people and deliver meaningful, lasting impact.

This report celebrates what has been achieved together and reaffirms our commitment to supporting community initiatives that make a difference through 2026 and beyond.

THE CEO'S MESSAGE

BY KARL HEPPLER

As CEO of the Norman Garon Trust, I am proud to present our 2025 Impact Report, which reflects our ongoing commitment to strengthening life in Southend-on-Sea and beyond. Our charitable mission has long focused on supporting local youth projects, helping young people access opportunity, stability and positive pathways in a city where inequality and disadvantage remain significant challenges.

At the heart of our model is Garon Park, which serves both as the base for many of our charitable initiatives and as a sustainable engine for community impact. As a dedicated health and wellbeing site, Garon Park promotes active lifestyles for all ages through sport, exercise, nature and community programmes. Crucially, the proceeds generated are reinvested directly back into Southend, funding local charities and community groups so that every visit and activity contributes to meaningful, measurable change across the city.

SUMMARY STATEMENT

LOOKING AHEAD TO 2026

2025 has been a year of both consolidation and expansion for the Norman Garon Trust, but the work is far from done. As the cost of living continues to squeeze households, and as the most deprived parts of our city need deeper and more targeted support, we must remain agile, responsive, and bold.
